MOOD: 😞 lonely

MUSIC: CNN

When forced air heat makes every morning a hangover morning.

Oh, wait. It is a hangover morning.

The bloody nose is still from the furnace, though.

And people say Vegas is dry.

The problem with working with a bunch of psychiatrists and mindfuck artists is that if I called in to work today, they would all know it wasn't to rest up from the bruising.

Elvis doesn't live here anymore.

Hey there. Sorry about the drama. It was... it was an emotional decision, and I didn't

Poppets. Puppets. Poppet puppets. Scary.

but central heating! eeeeeee! eeeeeee!

when I was a wee wabbit, my folks had a cabin with a super-effish woodstove. it was great. except in winter.

I figure it's a choice between nosebleeds and becoming a fudgesicle overnight.

I am going to Target and buying seventy-three humidifiers.

Ooof. Sorry, man. Failed to head the Cowboy off.

See if I ever take another filing cabinet for him.

Oh, you missed it, Hafs. I thought Chaz won that round, personally.

Cowboy: "What's the matter, Tiger. You're looking a little under the weather--"

Our Hero: "I got dumped."

Cowboy: (covering for obvious ignorance on the Chaz girlfriend front) "I didn't know you were allowed to date yet."

OH: "I'm allowed to date anybody I want." (Blows Cowboy a kiss.) "Big boy."

*cue rapid withdrawal of Cowboy from field of combat*

Yeah, I kind of feel bad about that too.

If he wants another response, he needs to get better material. *g*

I considered disappearing the Cowboy's part of the casefile from the system, so he'd have to write it again.

Then I realized that properly I'd have to find something equivalent to do to me. And everything I do is too important to deep-six. *g*

Ahem.

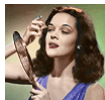

What I mean is, sorry, man. Sometimes I get my head up my "Boy, I know everything and am not afraid to tell you what to do!" ass.

All right. I'm declaring an apology moratorium.

Hey, mine was fabulously ungracious and self-absorbed and wiseass. That rises above mere apology to achieve ART.
